On March 21, 2005, all the adults in the United States—including the Native Americans, the descendants of British and European colonists, and all the other immigrant people who have come into the U.S.— were shocked to learn about the bizarre shooting tragedy that occurred at the Red Lake Senior High School, located on the Red Lake Indian Reservation in Minnesota. It was the worst school shooting problem to occur in the U.S. since the Columbine High School massacre in 1999.

We heard first that a young Native American boy, who was a student of that school and only 16 years old, had gone into his school building and had shot to death two adults that were inside, plus 5 students, and then finally himself. We also heard that he had earlier murdered his grandfather and his grandfather's girlfriend at their home, not so very long before that. Altogether, ten people had died by his hand. One of these was a 62-years-old teacher, Neva Winnecoup Rogers. All these many victims of his violence were Native Americans.

This was the most fatalities of any school shooting since the one which occurred at Columbine High School, located in Littleton, Colorado. Then two students dressed in dark "Goth" clothing had invaded a school with guns and had killed a total of 13 people, while wounding 23 more.

The young gunman at Red Lake High School was a 16-years-old boy named Jeff Weise, who had a severely troubled mind. At the time of his murderous slaying spree, he was apparently full of anger, resentment, hatred, and unbridled rage. How strange, we thought. Isn't it strange that he would attack his own people in this way?

Isn't it strange that he chose to take out his anger on his own people, devastating the lives of so many families in this Native American school?

As more details came forth, we learned that the situation was even more horrifying than we had assumed.

Jeff's family environment was a background had put him through considerable stress. His father had reportedly died by suicide only 4 years before. After that, his mother had suffered brain injury in a car accident and had been taken away to a Minneapolis nursing home, where she had lived ever since.

An FBI agent informed us that before attacking the other school children, Jeff had first shot to death his 58-years-old grandfather and his grandfather's 32-years-old girlfriend. The guns Jeff used for his killing spree belonged to his grandfather, a local police officer, as did the bullet-proof vest that Jeff carried off. He proceeded to drive off in his grandfather's squad car, heading toward his high school building with murderous intent.

He soon reached the Red Lake school, where he planned to continue his killing spree.

Jeff wore his grandfather's bullet-proof vest as he went inside the school, invading the familiar building while he was still in a murderous rage. Did he really think that a bullet-proof vest could protect him from the violence of his own unbridled rage, or from the chaos that he planned to unleash? His mind was obviously distraught.

One of Jeff's classmates at the Red Lake High School was Sondra Hegstrom, who said that he often wore "a big old black trench coat" and drew pictures of skeletons. She revealed that "He talked about death all the time."

God says in the Bible that "All those who hate Me love Death."

Sondra said also that a couple of his friends had stated that Jeff was suicidal, and had quoted him as having once said, "That would be cool, if I shot up the school."

A boy of 18, Willy May, knew Jeff Weise from school and said that people shouldn't have been surprised by Jeff's violent rampage. Willy May said, "He fits the profile of a Columbine shooter, man." He revealed also that Jeff Weise always wore combat boots "with red shoelaces" similar to those of the Columbine High School shooters.

We also learned from the press that Jeff loved horror movies and violent computer games like Grand Theft Auto. In his internet postings, he had declared his adulation for Hitler and the Nazis, insisting that he had become "a Native American Nazi."

Jeff posted messages on the internet in which he assumed the two user names "NativeNazi" and "Todesengel," the latter of which means "Angel of Death" in German.

His messages included the following: "I stumbled across the site in my study of the Third Reich as well as Nazism. I guess I've always carried a natural admiration for Hitler and his ideals, and his courage to take on larger nations."

Here's another: "As a result of cultural dominance and interracial mixing, there is [sic] barely any full-blooded Natives left. Where I live, less than 1 percent of all the people on the reservation can speak their own language."

And here's one more: "Under a National Socialist government, things for us would improve vastly. That is why I am pro-Nazi. It's hard though, being a Native American National Socialist; people are so misinformed, ignorant, and closed-minded, [that] it makes your life a living hell."

Apparently Jeff was teased quite a lot by certain students in the Red Lake school because of his odd behavior and his habit of dressing in the dark “Goth” fashion, just like the deranged shooters that had attacked the Columbine High School students.

One student at the Red Lake school was Reggie Graves, who said he was watching a movie about Shakespeare when he heard Weise blast his way past the metal detector, killing an unarmed security guard, age 28, in the process.

In a nearby classroom, he then heard Weise say something to his friend Ryan, something very significant: “He asked Ryan if he believed in God,” Reggie Graves declared. “And then he shot him.”

Now this is a very noteworthy fact, because that is exactly what the other young Goth shooters had said to three of the female students at Columbine High School, just before they had shot all 3, with 2 fatalities. Those 3 girls had been extremely brave, and each had responded “Yes, I do believe in God...” just before the bullets had ripped into their bodies.

The Columbine gunmen had very deliberately shot to death 2 Christian girls, along with many others that they killed in the bloody massacre which had taken place in the Columbine High school library. But first these had declared, “Yes, I do believe in God.”

The girls gave them that response because each was a believing Christian. The Goth shooters targeted 4 evangelical Christians in particular for their killing spree. At least two of the four had died of anti-Christian hatred as martyrs of Christ.

I don't know one way or the other, but I hope that young Ryan said the same thing in that Red Lake High School classroom, just a moment or two before Jeff Weise opened fire on him and shot him to death. I hope he said, "Yes, I do believe in God."

The similarity in the two incidents is more than mere coincidence, and is extremely revealing of what is going on behind the scenes.

Most people don't realize, though, that even Columbine's Cassie Bernall is reported to have earlier been dabbling in the occult and witchcraft, before she had rejected the Darkness, becoming a Christian believer and ultimately a martyr for Christ. The war between Darkness and Light becomes very obvious in the Goth massacres that took place at the Columbine & Red Lake high schools.

God has declared in His Holy Word that "All those who hate Me love Death."

Floyd Jourdain, Jr. is the Chairman of the Red Lake Chippewa Tribe, and he has reportedly declared that this Red Lake school shooting was "without a doubt the darkest hour" in the tribe's history.

Now, when I heard all these reports concerning the Red Lake shooting, I immediately reflected that Satan was again busy trying to devastate lives, and he was undoubtedly doing his best to destroy this Chippewa tribe in Minnesota.

Satan hopes that through devastation like this, he can destroy all faith in God and any feeling of hope that might exist for the Chippewa Indians. But then I realized that Satan has been busy for decades causing massive devastation in the lives of all the Native Americans who live in the U.S., in all of the many different tribes.

I realized suddenly that Satan has robbed the Native American tribes of hope for a great many decades, and this has led to a large number of Native American suicides, occurring in a percentage rate that is not appropriate to the small size of their population. Satan destroys hope and faith in God among the Native Americans, and so there is now a huge degree of alcoholism found among their population. It is a terrible vice that has become all-too-common among Native Americans.

Jeff Weise left a strange and scary trail on the internet, and in one of his internet postings, he indicated that he preferred to get high by other means than alcohol.

He kept a blog at Live Journal, where in a biographical note he wrote:

“I’m nothin’ but your average Native American stoner. I’m mellow half the time, mostly natural, but mostly drug-induced as well. I’m not a junkie, or an alcoholic; MJ is my gal of choice. Enough about that though; I don’t know why you’re readin’ this anyway. I’m gonna roll this joint, so I’ll c’ya later...”

For his Yahoo profile page, under “More About Me,” Jeff Weise wrote:

“Hobbies: Drawing. Listening to music. Chillin’. Gettin’ high. Being a smart kid. Being a Native American National Socialist.

“Latest News: On anti-depressants. Seeing a therapist... That’s about it. I got a brand new pair of cuts on my wrists that are gonna turn into beautiful scars some day.”

Under “Favorite Quote,” Jeff wrote:

“The law of existence requires uninterrupted killing . . . so that the better may live. — Adolf Hitler.”

Satan destroys hope and faith in God among the Native Americans, and he repeatedly devastates their lives. He is doubtless working toward the gradual destruction of all of their tribes.

A brief biographical note on Jeff’s member directory page at MSN, found under “A Little About Me,” says:

“16 years of accumulated rage, suppressed by nothing more than brief glimpses of hope, which have all but faded to black. I can feel the urges within slipping through the cracks, the leash I can no longer hold...”

Under “Hobbies,” Jeff listed: “Planning. Waiting. Hating.” And among his “Favorite Things,” Jeff listed:

“Moments where control becomes completely unattainable...”

“Times when maddened psycho paths briefly open the gates to hell, and let chaos flood through...”

How does Satan succeed in devastating all the Native American tribes, robbing them of all hope and of all faith in God?

One of his best devices for robbing them of hope is something that he gives to Native Americans very easily; he fills them with anger and barely-suppressed rage.

Satan is often quite successful in his task as he seeks to fill the hearts of Native Americans with a strong resentment of the way they were treated by the immigrants to this country. He tries to fill their hearts with resentment, and with even more—building anger, frustration, and unforgiveness inside them.

He also does his best to fill their hearts with hatred.

That’s not at all good. The apostle Paul taught that “anger does not bring about the righteous behavior that God desires,” and Jesus Himself has said that, “Whoever hates his brother has already committed murder in his heart.”

Right now, in the summer of 2005, the U.S. Congress is considering a proposal to make public a National Apology to the Native American Indian tribes. Some people think that this will help to smooth over all the hard feelings of the Native Americans.

But the truth is that it will not do any good unless the Native Americans are willing to really accept that apology. There can be no genuine acceptance of the apology unless they can really find forgiveness in their hearts for the sins of the Colonial immigrants and all of their descendants, as well as for all those immigrants who have invaded the Americas at a later date.

It's important that the Native Americans be able to find real forgiveness in their hearts for the non-Natives who have given them so much trouble over the last 3 or 4 centuries.

Why is this so important? Because the Lord Jesus Christ said that "Unless you forgive your brothers for the sins they have done unto you, your Father in Heaven will not forgive you for your own sins." That is why it's so important to forgive your enemies.

That is exactly why we all have to try so hard to forgive our enemies.

But the next day after the Red Lake High School massacre, I saw something else on TV that shocked me even more than that school's shooting incident.

A mission worker belonging to some Native American ministry came on TV for a few brief minutes, and he informed me that only 5% of the Native American population in the U.S. have ever become Christians!

He also reinforced for me the idea that suicide and alcoholism are all-too-common among the Natives, and he supported in other ways my thought that they are consumed by an utter hopelessness and a lack of faith in God.

I found this news to be utterly appalling and shocking beyond belief! How is it possible that 95% of the Native Americans are not believers in the God of Jesus Christ?

If the Native Americans have never found forgiveness for their own sins in the sacrifice of Jesus on that cross in Jerusalem... then how will they ever be able to forgive all those invading immigrants, the ones who were once their enemies?

Jesus had died on that cross in Jerusalem for the sins of Native Americans, and at the end he had said, "Father, forgive them, because they do not know what they are doing."

Jesus had then forgiven his enemies, the very ones who had tortured and murdered him. He had forgiven his enemies.

But the 95% of the Native American population that does not accept the faith of Jesus Christ are a very unhappy lot, because they have never received forgiveness from God The Father (the Father of Jesus) for all of their own sins.

They could get this forgiveness through the sacrifice which was made when God The Son had died on that cross, in the human body of Jesus Christ, as the Holy and Spotless Lamb that would take away the sins of the world.

Yet they have never accepted the idea of forgiveness for their sins in the Name of Jesus Christ, the Creator of our Universe, Who is God The Son, one Person in the Holy Trinity of God.

And having never accepted forgiveness in Jesus Christ for themselves, how will the Native Americans ever be able to find genuine forgiveness in their hearts for their former enemies?

I suddenly understood just how the Devil was succeeding in his massacre of the Native American tribes in the U.S. The Native Americans are living with hopelessness in their hearts because the vast majority of them do not have faith in God. They live in hopelessness because they have no confidence that they will ever get a reward in God's Heaven.

They have no certainty about what the Afterlife will hold for them.

And a great many of the Native Americans are currently dying in their sins, with unforgiveness in their hearts. A great many of them are dying with only resentment and hatred in their hearts.

God's Remnant is a tribe of loyal warriors that survives all the supernatural warfare of our Earth, and this group of humans will comprise a Special Harvest, a winning team that is the apple of God's eye. These warriors get an exalted position with God and are individually chosen by Him— they are carefully picked out of the crowd by the Righteous Chief Himself. These warriors will compose an elite tribe that is destined for a special position under God's Developmental Program for His Universe. This is the overcoming remnant that will be victorious over our current world (which will one day be called Old Earth), and they are the ones whom God will use to re-populate the planet of His New Earth.

High Father God wants YOU to join the Salvation Warriors! Become one of the Best... be smart and join the winning team! It's the only way to come out on top in the end!

The alternative is to stay on the losing side... and then you'll end up at the bottom of a Pit of Fire, with a nasty chief named Satan and his ugly bunch of demonic followers. Woe, woe... and whoa now! Stop that horse, 'cause I want to get off! Hey, that's a fate that shouldn't appeal to anyone with an ounce of good sense...

Let us reiterate...

High Father God wants YOU to join the Salvation Warriors! Become one of the Best... be smart and join the winning team! It's the only way to come out on top in the end!

Yeah, that's right— we're the World's Finest, the Good Guys who are "the salt of the Earth." Admittedly, we fight for truth, for what's right, and for justice... just like those "naive" police officers that a lot of people try to avoid!

So why do we end up thinking that we're "better" than all the rest? What makes us so special— what sets us apart from all the other evil sinners in the world?

Only the fact that we've accepted salvation through Christ, and have thus gotten forgiveness from our sins... and the fact that we've turned to Jesus Christ as a source of Light.

You can share the Light of Jesus Christ, can reflect His Holy Light in a Cruel World, and thus become a point of illumination in the darkness of this world.

God's Light can become a Lamp unto your feet and a Light unto your path, if you choose to accept rescue and salvation that is available in Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God Almighty.

You can even live to see the Light of God flowing through you and reaching out to other people in our world...!

It's time your mind was illuminated by Jesus Christ, the Holy One Who is the Light of the World!

The High God Almighty, Who is the Holy and Righteous Chief of the Warriors of Light, is looking for a few good riders. But He only wants the most virtuous and courageous warriors to join with Him as allies in the Cause of His Tribe... a tribe which He calls the Warriors of Light. You can share this wonderful light by placing Jesus Christ, Who in the Trinity of God created our Universe, upon a throne at the center of your heart! He deserves that position and that kind of respect. He was first God The High Son, but when born in human flesh He became the only sinless and righteous person who ever lived. Yet He sacrificed Himself on a cross for your sake, taking all guilt and sins upon Himself, in order that you and I— that all people— that whoever wishes for salvation might be rescued from the due punishment of sins.

If you will do this, you will gain a new contentment and peace as you accept God The High Father's organizational plan for the Universe . . . because you'll be letting God be the High Chief of All Things in this world . . . and in your own life.

As a new Warrior of Light, you'll be fighting for the Holy Cause of the Highest Chief, and His campaign will be a long and difficult struggle, often dangerous to life and limb. You'll be often placed in harm's way, with no shortage of enemies to battle. You will almost certainly go through a lot of pain and suffering for your devotion to the Righteous Chief. But it's all worth it, because the Most High rewards all His followers, sooner or later, with the Warriors' Heaven and the New Earth, which is a Warriors' Paradise.

This is promised for all of the True Believers of God.

All it really takes is a simple but sincere little prayer— one that you should make up in your own words. The prayer for deliverance and for God's leadership should come from your own heart!

Some important elements that you might include are:

- 1) your desire to turn away from the wrongness or evil of all your past life, and your remorse over all the sins of your previous life,
- 2) your desire for God's forgiveness and mercy through the act of sacrifice of His Only Begotten Son (Jesus Christ),
- 3) your desire to know God's leadership in your life,

- 4) your desire to learn more of God's truth through Bible study,
- 5) your desire to find fellowship with genuine believers.

Jesus said of the people of God that “The kingdom of heaven is like a net that God has cast into the sea, and it gathers of every kind: When it is full, it will be pulled up on the shore, where they will sit down to sort the catch, and they will collect the good fish in baskets, but the bad things will be thrown away. This is the way it will be at the end of the world: The angels shall come forth, and they will separate the unrighteous persons from among those justified by God . . .”

Excerpt from the Book of Matthew, who was a constant companion of Jesus and his devoted disciple [13:47-50].

Jesus spoke of the people of God as being like a seed that is growing secretly, saying, “As for the kingdom of God, it is as if a person should cast seed into the ground; and then he sleeps, and he rises up night and day to see that the seed is springing forth and always growing up, although he knows not exactly how. The Earth is bringing forth fruit from itself; first the blade, then the ears of corn, and after that the fullness of the ears of corn. And when all the fruit of the Earth has come forth, immediately God will use the sickle to reap the fields, because the harvest-time has come.”

Excerpt from the book of Mark [4:26-29].

It's also important for all of us to remember this:

- 1) WE SPEAK TO GOD by our prayers.
- 2) GOD SPEAKS TO US by the words of Holy Scripture.

So we must try to read His words and His Book just as often as we possibly can!!

God wants to bless you for all your long efforts to understand this very confusing and difficult Universe in which we live— so let Him reward your search with the grace of His forgiveness and enlightenment!
